MASHLM is designed for humanitarian professionals who wish to enhance their careers and advance in the key areas of supply chain management, process and project management, strategic management, and humanitarian action.

Tailored to maximize

- Impact – immediately apply the tools you learn in class.
- Active Network – It's intense. You work hard. You work together. Engage with experienced professionals, just like you.
- Career – our alumni have been rewarded with greater responsibility and promotions.
- Learning – our faculty include experts and scholars from MIT, Georgia Tech, USAID, the International Red Cross and other leading institutions.

What did you find at MASHLM?

"I got a lot out of the program. I feel more mature, the way I approach issues at work is more strategic. Now, I think I'm capable of handling any complex situation in the humanitarian sector."
